

Calvary Chapel

REACHING THE WORLD FOR CHRIST

MAGAZINE

Inspired by Jesus' command to fulfill the Great Commission, Calvary Chapel Magazine is a quarterly publication that shares the Gospel through testimonies of missionaries in the field. Compelling photography gives you an account of their struggles, heartbreak, and victories.

1-888-257-2714 In this next issue:

South Korea crusade; Creation Fest in the UK; music reviews from M.O.D., Brett Williams, and Rodrigo Rodriguez; outreach to Oklahoma; Blue Letter Bible; widow Heidi Coffee's personal testimony; teachings by Pastors Chuck Smith, Brian Brodersen, Bil Gallatin, and David Guzik; Missionary Prayers; and more:

Men's conference

More than 10,000 men attended the annual Calvary Chapel Men's Conference at the Anaheim Convention Center in Southern California in October. Nearly 600 accepted Christ. The event was also broadcast live via Internet to nearly 300 churches worldwide, with another 1,500 individual webcasts. Dozens of men sent in praise reports about viewing the conference from remote areas.

CF Seattle Started nearly 30 years ago by a young hippie during the Jesus Movement, Calvary Fellowship Seattle has grown in number and influence. As Seattle believers have answered God's call to missions, the church has touched its local community ...

CCBC Germany Noah Beumer lay on the couch in the student lounge, working on his laptop. Several other students were studying. Noah was several weeks away from graduation at the Calvary Chapel Bible College (CCBC) in Siegen. The 25-year-old Spokane, WA, native wanted to finish well in the place where ...

CC Siegen In 1988, Nick and Sue Long moved to Germany from Seattle, WA, recently married. Nick was well accomplished in music but ...

Iraq

Working at the military base in Baqubah, Iraq, had been relatively quiet for the U.S. Army's 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor Regiment (2-

Mexico

When the Barillaro family came to Mexicali 12 years ago, they slept in their truck and went 69)—until one afternoon in March when a suicide bomber drove a vehicle into the checkpoint just outside the base, killing several soldiers. That night, Sgt. Casey Brennan—a good-hearted, hard-working young medic ...

door-to-door reading Spanish phrases they had scribbled on pieces of paper: "Hola, me llamo Juan ..." At night, they would return to the truck with their young twin daughters and cry because they couldn't tell the people more about Jesus. ...

That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works. Psalm 26:7 KJV

CALL BY FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1ST, 3PM (EST), ONLY IF YOU NEED TO INCREASE YOUR ORDER.

If you do not want to receive this or other e-mail notices from CC Magazine, please send an e-mail to ccmm@calvarychapel.com with the word "UNSUBSCRIBE" in the subject line.